PROFILE

I am a newly graduated student of Code Institute where I studied Full Stack Web Development. I now have the knowledge needed to start my career as a developer. I consider myself as a team player as I have always played team sports and can also work remotely on my own as I have proved to myself while completing the course. I have strong interpersonal skills and am confident in both frontend and backend and enjoy bringing my creative and imaginative side out onto whatever I am developing. I am eager to be challenged in order to grow and further improve my IT skills.
